I am so grateful for the opportunity to speak to the economics class at Gateway College in my hometown of Lake City, Florida today!

1947 was a pivotal year in my life's story—my parents, met and married, and my father played a role in founding this wonderful school. To stand here decades later and share my journey was truly special.

A huge thank you to my dearest and longest-tenured friend, Susie Hall, and to Lee Pinchuck for leading the incredible work of the Gateway College Foundation. Today was definitely a happy dance day!

I was home last week—home in Houston! Surrounded by the most generous, warm-hearted friends a girl could ask for. I was especially grateful to speak at Women's Initiative and all Young Leaders: Career Planning Through the Ages, an event hosted by United Way.

I truly enjoyed sharing my journey to becoming a Forbes bestselling author and reflecting on my career path. It was a pleasure to offer stories, insights, and so much more.

Nothing beats the feeling of giving back to a community that has given me so much!
